

What's happening at G. Ray Bodley High School?

Applications for New Vision Programs for next school year are due in the Guidance Office today. Include the completed application as well as two letters of recommendation.

The guidance office has posted new scholarships that are available for local graduates. Every college bound senior can use some free money! Remember to check the board every week through March and April for newly posted scholarships.

Prom tickets are now on sale in Mr. McCarten's room 222. Don't be left out of this wonderful and memorable night.

The senior lounge is ready to open. Interested seniors can pick up an application in the main office.

A representative from Cayuga Community College will be in the guidance office today at 8:30 am to meet with interested students.

Student Senate is sponsoring a hat day today, March 13 to raise money to benefit the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society. Just pay $1 to a Student Senate member at the main entrance today and receive a sticker that will allow you to wear your hat all day in school.

What's for lunch?

Today: Grilled cheese sandwich with tomato soup, broccoli florets and mixed fruit cup.

Monday: Sloppy Joe on a bun with side salad, butternut squash and chilled pears.

All-county concert this weekend

Music in our Schools Month welcomes talented players from various locations around Central New York this weekend to help put on this years annual All- County Orchestra performance. G. Ray Bodley High School is fortunate enough to have the pleasure of hosting the event on Saturday, March 14th at 2 pm in the high school auditorium.

The young musicians will be performing three challenging pieces, Rhapsody in Blue by George Gershwin, Circus Galop from the Irish Dragon by John Philip Sousa ,and lastly The Carmen Suite by George Bizet.

Fulton will be well repested on the weekend as Madison Lang, Donna Aiken, Gina Babcock, Meghan DeMott and Katelyn Ely will all take part along with Justina Race, Samantha Heywood, Emma Harvey, Paige Rowlee and Abbey Zych. Also taking part from the Fulton Music Department are Olivia Coakley, Ben McKay, Maryssa Woodcock, Mason Rowlee and Deirdre Murphy.

Many of the best high school musicians in the area will be performing, making this a sight to see. In addition, it is always appreciated by those performing to know that their hard work and dedication is being recognized.

Action and romance highlight weekend releases

It's Friday night, why not spend it with some friends by going to the movies and checking out the new releases?

Get treated to an old classic with a new twist, Cinderella! After her father unexpectedly dies, young Ella finds herself in the hands of her cruel stepmother and stepsisters. Jealous of her beauty and charm they degrade her to the position of the household maid. Despite her situation her determination and spirit does not falter. An invitation to a palace ball gives Ella hope that she might reunite with the charming gentleman she met in the woods at a previous date, but unfortunately her stepmother goes through various measures to prevent her from going. Fortunately for Ella help arrives in the form of a kindly beggar woman who has a little magic up her sleeve.

This movie is a twist on the old Disney classic animated film Cinderella, which was released in 1950. This film is age friendly being rated PG, and will be released this evening starting at 7pm.

Another release coming to theaters tonight is Run All Night, featuring the phenomenal actor Liam Neeson. This, of course, is action packed. When his son finds himself a target of a mob gang, a retired hit man must figure out where his loyalties lie and how to save his child from an untimely death. With this film being a little more graphic it has been Rated R and viewers should take caution before bringing in younger individuals.

Two must sees for this weekend are an old classic and a new action film, so most types of viewers will be pleased with their options. As always, have a wonderful weekend!

Don't look now but it's Friday the 13th again!

One of the most unlucky days of the year is upon us. This year, 2015, is an especially unlucky year, as the 13th will land on a Friday three times this year compared to 1 Friday the 13th in 2014. It is not known for sure why Friday the 13th is such a superstitious day, but historians believe that it may have something to do the fact that both Friday and the number 13 are considered just plain unlucky because of their connection with the crucifixion of Christ.

Although superstitions are heightened on Friday the 13th, they last all year around. Even G. Ray Bodley students feel unlucky in certain situations.

Freshman Chris Tetro feels uncomfortable whenever he spills salt. When it happens, he says, "I put a little bit of the salt in my hand and throw it over my left shoulder."

Senior Maggie Williams, like many others, knocks on wood after certain things are said. An example that Maggie gave is when you say something like "I didn't get a nose bleed today, knock on wood." Adding the phrase "knock on wood" is meant to not jinx a situation. Maggie also adds, "I do believe in Friday the 13th, I have to say. That day stinks."

Technology teacher Mr. Wilcox admits that he would not walk underneath a ladder. He also said that he has broken a mirror before, an action that is said to cause seven years of bad luck. When asked if he experienced those unlucky years, he replied "I don't know."

Not all of us are superstitious, but if you are, look out for black cats, full moons and the number three.

Quote of the day:

"You will never be happy if you continue to search for what happiness consists of. You will never live if you are looking for the meaning of life."

Easter Fact of the Day

The largest Easter egg ever made was over 25 feet high and weighed 8,968 lbs. It was made out of chocolate and marshmallows and was supported by an internal steel frame.
