

GRB sending 18 to All-County chorus

By Jessica Vaccaro

G. Ray Bodley High School will be well represented at the All-County Chorus concerts in early April as 18 members of the concert choir and women's choir have been chosen to participate in an honor ensemble at this year's festival.

The students had to audition in an accapella quartet in front of a panel of judges to make one of the two choirs that will be performing. This year at All-County there will be a women's choir and a mixed choir performing. Students from GRB will be representing Fulton in both choirs this year.

The students who will be representing GRB in the All-County mixed choir are Katie Salmonsens, Logan Carvey, Stephan Haywood, Michael Mankiewiewicz, Kaitlin Kinney and Deidra Murphy along with Erica Pawlewicz, Justina Race, Brad Crofoot and Jeremy Herlowski.

Rounding out the list are Mark Parry, Zach Perry, and Brandon Webb. The students who will be performing in the All-County women's choir are Erica Perwitz, Abigail Roberge, Kennedie Coyne, Lexi Albelgore, and Quinn Webb.

GRB Chorus Director Mr. Nami was pleased with the large number of students being selected, saying that, "it's a great opportunity for our students to work with students from other Oswego County Schools in a choral format." The concert is scheduled for April 4-5 at A-P-W High School.

Raiders take second at Barnard Tourney

A tough showing in the finals that saw Fulton go 0-4 meant that the Raiders had to settle for second place at the Clayton Barnard Tournament in Hilton over the weekend. The Raiders sent four wrestlers to the finals, but the end result was the same on all four occasions as two met defeat by pin while their counterparts both met with technical fall losses.

The hosts ruled the roost with 245 points while the Raiders were a distant second at 173, followed by Spencerport (165), Newark Valley (136) and Alexander (134.5) in the 18 team gathering.

The biggest surprise of the day came when previously undefeated Mitch Woodworth went down by pin at 5:25 to Alexander's Nick Gaiser in the 120 pound final. The loss snapped a 30 match winning streak for the Raider junior, who also picked up two wins including a pin along the way to now stand 11 wins and 14 pins away from David Hall's school record marks of 141 wins and 86 pins respectively.

Brandon Hill (132) and Nick Abelgore (98) also absorbed technical fall losses in the finals, while Tim Holden was pinned in the 138 pound showdown.

Fulton's bad fortunes continued in the consolation round as Jake Bailey (150), Travis Race (160) and James Bailey (170) had to settle for fourth place finishes before Matt Marshall and Malachi Manford came through with consolation wins in the 220 and 285 pound matches. Marshall had to battle through a pair of overtime periods before defeating McQuaid's Zach Poudrier 5-3 while Manford made quick work on Perry's Cecil Beardslee with a pins just 30 seconds into his 285 match-up. Fred Ashby scored a pin at 3:44 to finish fifth in the 285 pound ring and Collin Flynn was sixth at 145.

Lots of variety in current movie releases

It's the perfect time to see a movie, and several potential blockbusters were released last week.

Jack Ryan: Shadow Recruit

Looking for an action packed thriller? Look no further than this new drama packed film. Jack Ryan is a young covert agent on a mission who uncovers a plan by the Russians to launch a full on terrorist attack. The plan is designed to destroy the US stock market. CIA analyst Jack Ryan is played by Chris Pine, Keira Knightly plays Cathy Muller and Kevin Costner plays Thomas Harper, with Kenneth Branagh playing Viktor Cherevin. Kenneth is also behind the camera as director which will really enhance this film if it matches his work on Thor. Branagh brought multiple genres together with Thor and it was highly popular.

Devils Due is the story of Samantha and Zach McCall. These newlywed lovers are hit with a suprising pregnancy after a blurry and ominous honeymoon night. They begin to record everything that happens to them for validity, which after being reviewed shows strange behavior patterns in Samantha. The mysterious temperament is attributed to nervousness, yet after the behavior doesn't stop, Zach is sure that the negative changes to her thoughts and body are due to an anarchistic, evil origin.

This film was written by Lindsay Devlin, and directed by Matt Bettinelli-Olpin and Tyler Gillett. Samantha McCall is played by Allison Miller and Zach Gilford is Zach McCall. Sam Anderson plays Father Thomas and Vanessa Ray plays Suzie. This horror film is a possible cult classic, with an interesting plot idea. Give it a shot if your looking for a campy scary flick.

This movie is a happy-go-lucky animated adventure intended for a younger audience. The Nut Job features Surly a hermit and self-dependent squirrel that has been exiled from his home park. Now Surly is forced to attempt to survive in the heart of the bustling city on his own. By a stroke of pure luck he finds something that could bring him back to the park and in fact cure the parks constant search of food for winter.

Yes that's right, he found Maury's Nut Store. With voice acting by Will Arnett as Surly and Brendan Fraser as Grayson, Liam Neeson stars as Raccoon and Katherine Heigl offers the voice of Andie. This animation is directed by Peter Lepeniotis and the screenplay was written by Lorne Cameron. This movie has some great stars as voices, and will be a fun adventure for younger and older crowds alike.

Ride Along is about a fast-paced security officer named Ben Barber and his adventure with his brother in law James Payton. Ben decides to go on a 24-hour ride along patrol to provide assurance that he is worth being a husband to Jame's sister. The Atlanta patrol is the only way to sway Angela Payton to give her hand to Ben in marriage. This movie features Ice Cube as James and Kevin Hart as Ben. John Leguiziamo plays Santiago, with Tika Sumpter as Angela Payton. The movie is written by Greg Coolidge, Jason Mantzoukas, Phil Hay and Matt Manfredi. The story was created by Greg Coolidge. Directed by Tim Story, this movie could be hilarious, but got low metacritic scores, so that is not a good sign.

The Sweet Side of Life

Try these do it yourself thin mint cookies

By Tevin Simard

Perhaps you've always wondered how it is that those energetic Girl Scouts produce such great-tasting cookies year after year cookies and would like some for yourself. Or maybe, like many people, you would like to supply your Thin Mint Cookie addiction without seasonal constraints.

According to users who have tried this recipe on their own, "these probably taste just as good as the real thing, I can't even tell the difference in the looks category!" Why not indulge your craving and try the recipe for yourself? You have nothing to lose, and every dessert is better with chocolate.

Homemade Thin Mint Cookies

Ingredients:

Chocolate Cookie Wafers

1 (18 1/4 ounce) package fudge cake mix (try Duncan Hines Moist Deluxe Devil's Food)
3 tablespoons shortening, melted
1/2 cup cake flour, measured then sifted
1 egg
3 tablespoons water
nonstick cooking spray

Coating

3 (12 ounce) bags semi-sweet chocolate chips
3/4 teaspoon peppermint extract
6 tablespoons shortening

Step 1: Make the cookie dough

Combine chocolate wafer ingredients in a bowl until well mixed. You may need to get your hands in there!

On a surface lightly dusted with flour, shape dough into two logs, about 1 1/2 inches (or about 4 cm) in diameter.

Step 2: Freeze

Wrap in plastic wrap, waxed paper or parchment and freeze for at least 1-2 hours, until dough is very firm and can be sliced into wafers.

Step 3: Bake
Preheat oven to 375F.

Slice dough into rounds not more than 1/4 inch thick - if they are too thick, they will not be as crisp - and place on a parchment lined baking sheet.

These cookies are firm and will not spread very much, so you can put them quite close together.

Bake for 13-15 minutes, until cookies are firm at the edges. Cool cookies completely on a wire rack before dipping in chocolate.

Tough non-league loss for Lady Raiders

Last Thursday night, the Lady Raiders hoopsters traveled to take on the Cazenovia Lakers. Both of these teams had similar records going into the game as the Lady Raiders were 3-5, while the Lakers were 3-6. This was a non-league game so it did not count toward the Lady Raiders OHSL record. Their close records showed how close the game would be.

Even though the Lady Raiders were on the road, they showed how they wanted to win this game badly. The first quarter was won by Fulton 13-10. Wanting to keep this forward progress, the Lady Raiders had another good quarter, winning 11-10. At halftime, it was close, with the Lady Raiders leading the Lakers 24-20. Nobody had claimed the lead and there were still two quarters to play.

After halftime, the Lakers wanted to prove to their home crowd they were the better of the two teams. Just like the other quarters, Cazenovia scored 10 points, but this time they held the Lady Raiders to a mere five points. The game was on the line going into the final quarter, but the Lady Raiders could not pull ahead and grab the win. The Lakers edged out the Raiders 43-41.

The Lady Raiders showed that they were going to be a tough team even though they lost. Many players had good performances in this game. Freshman Nicole Hansen had a great game with 14 points and 11 rebounds, giving her a double-double. Junior Michaela Whiteman put up 10 points and freshman Sydney Gilmore had seven points, five rebounds, and five steals. The Lady Raiders were still in second place in the OHSL Freedom American league after Thursday night's game.
